CLAYTON OF CLAYTON IN STOKE-UPON-TRENT, STAFFS

ARMS:

CREST:

At Great Clayton (? Clayton Culverd) there was a family of the same name, who died out with Thomas Clayton (in A.D. 1633). Ward states that by the marriage of Ellen, a daughter of John Clayton (temp. Eliz [1559-1603]), with Thomas Lovatt, part of the lands came into that family; so that in 1615 the Lovatts and Claytons appear to have owned more than one-half of Clayton, and Seabridge adjoining it. Part of this then was John Clayton's; who dying s.p. his nieces and coheiresses, Mary w. of John Wynser, and Elizabeth, wife of Thomas Lea, succeded in coparcenery. Thomas Lovatt Esq. the last male of that family in the main line, bought up these lands in 1785, and dying in 1803, left them to his only child Anne, who married Hugh Booth Esq. and their only child became the wife of John Ashford Wise Esq who thus acquired Clayton Hall.
